What's New & Different

How has remote learning changed and improved from last spring?

Spring to Fall - What has changed?

Asynchronous learning		Synchronous (live) instruction via Zoom five days per week
Students managing all their academic classes each day		Students will focus on four classes per day
Few formal opportunities for summative assessments		Students will engage in portfolios, project based assessments, constructive response, etc.
Grading- pass/incomplete		Grading will return to pre March 13th policies

Remote Learning Schedule Guiding Principles

- Provide a meaningful and quality education for students in remote setting
 - Manageable daily course load for students and staff
 - Maximize planning time for teachers to navigate online learning best practices
- Provide academic and social emotional interventions
 - Leverage opportunities for teachers to provide academic interventions during the school day, while students are in class
 - Provide easy access to virtual supports
 - Provide both student-directed ('walk-in'), 'teacher-directed' interventions and supports
- Maximize class time to
 - Address gaps beginning from last spring,
 - Provide structure of the school day
